REPUBLICAN NOMINATION.
FOR PRESIDENT,
Abraham Lincoln,
OF ILLINOIS.
FOR VICE-PRESIDENT,
Hannibal Hamlin,
OF MAINE.

Guano.

Last year we noticed the discoveries of the articles in the Pacific, and as was then intimated, we are now assured it has assumed a national character of vital interest to agriculture and Commerce. The former requires it to restore their wheat crop from ten to old fashioned thirty bushels to the acre; the latter to furnish return freights after discharging their outward cargoes, to supply the wants of the vast population now gathering at the Washoo and other mines in California and Oregon, from China and the Atlantic ports of the United States.

It is a matter of public congratulation, that in consequence of an honest mistake of one of our most experienced old Commodores, the attention of all the rest of the world was diverted from the islands on which these deposits have been found, till American citizens took possession of them all under the act of Congress passed in 1856. The American Guano Company own two—Baker's and Jarvis'. The Pacific Guano Company own one—Johnson's—and The United States Guano Company own Christimes, Malden's, Howland's, Phoenix, and some thirty others. The deposit on these Islands is composed of Fish, digested by Birds, Eggs, dead Birds, and Fish bones from which the flesh has been eaten by the young birds. The quantity is sufficient to supply the world for centuries, and the daily deposit will make up forever the export.

About 90 parts of the original mass is evolved by heat and moisture, leaving only about 12 per cent of organic matter, yielding not one half per cent of ammonia, and more than sixty per cent. of Phosphate of Lime, and Magnesia in fine powder, readily assimilable by the rootlets of plants, and every pound of which, according to the opinion of most scientific agriculturists, contains the conditions necessary to produce sixty pounds of wheat, and without which, cotton, sugar, and tobacco cannot be cultivated.

We are glad that treasures of such magnitude are being duly appreciated by Congress, where a Bill which has already passed the Senate by an almost unanimous vote, is on the eve of receiving the sanction of the House of Representatives; the passage of which will be of the greatest service to our farmers by giving them a pure article instead of the adulterations composed mostly of dirt, which are now so often imposed upon them, and to the shipping interest by giving them an increased carrying trade.

Professor E. Merriam furnishes the New York Tribune with some statistics of lightning, extending back a period of ten years, which, as the season for thunder storms is approaching, we transmit for the benefit of our readers:

The number of persons stated to have been killed by lightning on the land within the field of my research in that ten years counts up six hundred and eighty-seven (687), and besides this large number are two records of death by explosion of powder magazines ignited by lightning—one in the Island of Rhodes, 1856, by which a thousand lives were terminated in a single moment, the other, in August, 1857, at Joudpur, Persia, where more than one thousand lives were ended with the like suddenness.

Our persons have been killed by lightning in buildings furnished with lightning conductors within the field of my research, viz.: one at North Prairie, Wis., July 8, 1855; one at Walden, Vt., July 18, 1851; one at Newcastle, Westchester County, N. Y., while standing in an open doorway on June 1858, and the other in a Meeting-house at Freeport, Armstrong County, Pa., in the same month of the same year. These are all the deaths by lightning in buildings having lightning rods that have come under my notice.

No death by lightning within a Railroad Car since Railroads have been in use, nor in an iron building, nor of a telegraph operator while operating with the wire.

Two persons have been killed by lightning while standing on the outside platform of Railroad Cars, one near Corning, N. Y., and the other near Baltimore, Md.

In the year 1858 the number killed by lightning within the field of my research was fifty nine (59); of which thirty-four (34) were in buildings, seven (7) under trees, two on horseback and sixteen (16) in the open air, and eighteen not particularized.

In addition to the number particularized, there are two accounts in each of the years 1858 and 1859, in which the number killed by lightning is stated as several.

I have, at no account of death by lightning of a person resting upon a bed resting upon an iron bedstead, nor of a person within a building having a metallic roof.

The number of dwelling houses burnt by lightning in the years extending from the close of 1840 to the beginning of 1860, within the field of my research, is stated at eighty-two (82); besides these, thirty-two (32) were set on fire, twenty-seven (27) torn to pieces, one hundred and ninety (190) were much damaged, four hundred and forty-eight (448) a little damaged, and seventy-four (74) struck but not injured. Of dwelling houses having lightning rods, two were burnt, twenty-two were much damaged, thirty-one slightly injured, and seventeen struck but not injured.

Could I have seen, the buildings struck by lightning where the rods failed to conduct the electric discharge from the clouds, I have no doubt I should have found marks left by the lightning explaining the failure of the rods, for in all cases of the kind that I have examined, I have found such evidence.

Since staves and stove pipes have been substituted for open fire places, and the introduction of metal gas pipes into dwellings, it has become more difficult to protect buildings by lightning rods.

Persons struck down by lightning should be freely drenched with cold water. I have the record of a case on Staten Island, several years ago, where a person struck down by lightning was resuscitated after several hours drenching. This case alone encourages perseverance and patience.

The easiest position in an unprotected building during a thunder shower is on a chair in the middle of a room with the seat on a round Windsor and doors should be closed.

My confidence in metallic lightning conductors, properly constructed, continues undiminished.

Many persons suffer from fear during a thunder storm, and it will be a comfort to such to know the safety afforded by railroad cars, iron buildings, buildings with metal roofs, and buildings furnished with lightning conductors.

I have printed for gratuitous distribution a paper of sixteen quarto pages in relation to lightning, which will be sent free of expense to any person wishing a copy of "Brooklyn Heights," L. I. N. Y.

Opening of the Ocean House. This mammoth Hotel, the largest of the fashionable resorts of Newport, was opened for the season yesterday, on which occasion its gentlemanly hosts, Messrs. KENNEDY & BIRCH, gave a complimentary dinner to their friends and patrons. The guests consisted of about forty of the prominent gentlemen of Newport, New York, etc., who had sprung before them a most sumptuous repast, such as seldom or ever been seen upon the tables of our first class hotels.

After the cloth was removed, appropriate speeches were made by Chas. H. Russell, Esq., Ex. Gov. Duncan Poll, Capt. S. W. Macy and others, which were responded to in the most complimentary manner by "mine host." Mr. Atkinson, P. M., having been called upon gave the following—

It is a matter of public congratulation, that in consequence of an honest mistake of one of our most experienced old Commodores, the attention of all the rest of the world was diverted from the islands on which these deposits have been found, till American citizens took possession of them all under the act of Congress passed in 1856. A New Comer.

The schoolroom Miss Fowles, (formerly of Bristol,) has been purchased by Mr. Thomas Stanhope, of this city, and, as will be seen by her advertisement, will be at the disposal of pleasure-seekers in our community during the summer.

The Miss Fowles is a beauty of a coat, 23 feet regular, length 40 feet, breadth 18 feet, depth 7 feet. She has an elegant room, with sleeping accommodations for eight persons. Her cabin and cooking apartment, adjoining, occupy the whole lower part of the vessel. She has been placed under the charge of Capt. John Johnson, a gentleman of large experience in yachting, and universally esteemed for his moral deportment and courteous bearing, being entirely temperate and exceeding due care in the management of his vessel. It is evident that opportunity is presented in these waters for yachting, sailing, in a beautiful and well found a craft.

Given Up!

The Street Watering. It was necessary to raise $150 per month, of which amount $134 was collected, leaving a deficiency of $16 per month, which amount is necessary to effect the arrangements. We wish it was possible to know how much property will be damaged, and how much work will be rendered necessary in consequence of the failure. But the Committee have done more already than they were under any obligation to do, so that no faint can attach to them.

PORT OF NEWPORT.

TUESDAY, June 19.—Arrived—Schooners John G. Wright, Walling, Rappahannock, Va.; 130 cords wood to W. J. Swinburne, Ware Street, Smith, Philadelphia; 203 tons coal to Oman & Bradford; Sarah Jane, Gaynor, New York; made to John Eldred and others.

Mr. Newton, proprietor of the Atlantic, was called upon and responded in appropriate terms. The whole affair went off most pleasantly and to the entire gratification of all present.

The Ocean House has never, within our collection, been opened in such perfect order as it now is. It has undergone, since last season, many improvements for the better, and the reputation which it obtained during the first year of its present management, adds greatly to its good name, and seems to clothe it with an air of comfort which few large hotels in a summer watering place possess, however magnificent their imposing arrangements may appear to the casual eye.

We add our wish to that of many others, that the success of its proprietors, this season, will be all that they may wish, and that their shadows may never be less."

Locals in Brief.

BY THE MAN ABOUT TOWN.

We are pleased to learn from Wm. A. White, Esq., Law partner of Wm. P. Thetford, Esq., that the recovery of that gentleman is progressing rapidly, and he intends riding out during this week.—Long Wharf, on the eve of the Bay State yesterday morning presented as appearance decidedly summerish. Carriages, horses, trunks, and other paraphernalia of travel were displayed in great profusion, showing that the "busy season" is close at hand.—J. H. Coopers is laying a handsome brick sidewalk in front of his store, paving the way for customers to walk up and purchase his cheap and elegant clothing.—The display of fruit in front of his establishment, yesterday morning, was decided fine and tempting. Cherries red, ripe and inviting as the lips of a ruddylass of sweet sixteen, and strawberries of the most tempting varieties.—Macon Hall is receiving the elegant touches preparatory to the coming pageant of the 24th inst. The Hall has been newly painted and papered, and the outside supplied with a new coat of white. The painting has been done in a creditable manner by Mr. Henry Hudson, and the papering in like manner by Mr. William Cutler.—The Town Beach is putting on its summer air, and numbers now resort thither daily for bathing.—The weather continues to be of the most satisfactory description, with the exception of a hazy atmosphere and a strong southwest wind, giving token of a coming storm. Let us hope that it will set in soon to wet and interfere with the anticipated pageant of Friday.—Commodore Beddoe is making some necessary alterations in the tails of his beautiful prize yacht, the Narragansett, preparatory to participating in an Ocean race by the New York Yacht Club, which is talked of to come off during the summer.—That sidewalk in front of the New-York Gas office is perfectly charming—to those who delight in the punishment of the hazy atmosphere and a strong southwest wind, giving token of a coming storm. Let us hope that it will set in soon to wet and interfere with the anticipated pageant of Friday.—Commodore Beddoe is making some necessary alterations in the tails of his beautiful prize yacht, the Narragansett, preparatory to participating in an Ocean race by the New York Yacht Club, which is talked of to come off during the summer.—That sidewalk in front of the New-York Gas office is perfectly charming—to those who delight in the punishment of the hazy atmosphere and a strong southwest wind, giving token of a coming storm. NEW Bank Note Alteration.

City Marshal Seale shewed us, yesterday, a Bank Note, which is an alteration—at least to us—not, and which has been put into circulation in this city.

The bill was originally printed as being issued by a Memphis Bank, although by what is not easy to say. It is altered to represent the Village Bank of Smithfield, R. I.

The true bill of the Village Bank may be described thus: Vignette, five silver dollars and five Cupids; below, "Village Bank, Smithfield, R. I." On the left end "5." Below, letter V, with five persons around it. On the right, "5 and head of a female and a horse."

THIS AND THAT.

PET PORTRAIT OF A STRONG-MINDED FEMALE.—A New York paper thus describes one of the strong-minded women at a Women's Rights meeting, held recently in that city:

Mrs. CAROLINE A. DILL is a short woman, say five feet six in height. Her head sits well upon her neck, and is very peculiar in its shape. Her nose is long and pointed, indicating penetration, and her mouth is unusually large; indicating her power of speaking a long time without fatiguing herself. She is very thin, wearing glasses, (and) dresses in gingham shorts, has a lace collar on her neck, has very tight sleeves, like Bologna sausages, to her dress, and encloses her wrists in pretty point lace cuffs. Her finger nails are very long, and she has a singular habit of rubbing them against each other, producing sounds such as a small boy would make with Genghis Khan's castanets, and which makes a noise like the screech of a raven at each rub.

She is a steamboat and a half. Her speech was very long, and consequently, rambling. She had some capital ideas as to the fitness of women for the performance of certain kinds of labor, such as typesetting, telegraphic manipulation, painting, watch-making, house service and nursing.

She thought that the change was not a beneficial one which had taken place in the minds of the ladies concerning house services and the dignity thereof. For her part she thought there was no place so deserving of an American woman's notice as the markets produce; also Icing and Or-namenting Cakes, is executed in a workmanlike manner. All orders in the above are kindly received and promptly attended to.

where he is now prepared to furnish Famili-lies and Parties of all kinds, who may give him a call, with the choice of Confectionies, together with Ice Cream, Water Ices;

Candy, Fruits and Preserves. Having had an extensive experience of several years,

he flatters himself of being able to suit al-who may favor him with a call. He is also prepared to furnish to any extent, Patisseries, Weddings, &c., with his justly celeb-ated Ice Cream, Water Ices, and all that por-tsals to a complete outfit in his peculiar branches. As he has spared neither time nor expense in getting up his new and elegant

Establishment, and to make his establishment that which it has always been, "the first in Newport," nothing on his part will be wanting to supply his Patrons and the Public with the best the markets produce; also Icing and Or-namenting Cakes, is executed in a workmanlike manner. All orders in the above are kindly received and promptly attended to.

ST. NICHOLAS HOTEL, Broadway, New York.

WHEN COMPLETED, six years ago, the St. Nicholas was universally promised the most magnificent, convenient and thoroughly organized establishment of the kind on this continent. What it was then remains to-day without a rival in size, in sumptuousness, and in the general elements of comfort and enjoyment. The Hotel has accommodations for 1,000 guests,

including 100 complete suites of apartments for families. Six hundred persons can be comfortably seated at the tables of its three public dining rooms, and nothing that modern art has devised for the convenience and social gratification of the travelling public has been omitted in its plan, or neglected in its practical details. The early reputation of the house at home and abroad, derived from its magnitude, its superb appointments, and home-like comforts and luxuries, has been enhanced every year by the unrewarded exertion of the proprietors.
